UK IDNDR focal points

The following persons have kindly agreed to act as focal points: to answer general and technical queries or where matters are not in their area of expertise to deflect enquiries to more suitable persons.

The following list of focal points is being distributed widely, with the audit, to various government Departments, EU, UN agencies, contracting bodies as well as media. The names have been carefully selected and approved by the UK National IDNDR Co-ordination Committee. All persons on this list are prepared to provide comment and broad advice at no cost. Where possible two names have been provided, since individual focal points may not always be available.

It should be emphasised that any advice offered by these focal points comes from them personally, based on their experience and expertise; it does not necessarily reflect the views of the organisation they work for or the UK IDNDR National Co-ordination Committee.

This section comprises the following headings

- General knowledge of disaster preparedness/mitigation;
- Hazard types and related sectors;
- Sectors;
- Country knowledge;
- Government focal points,
- NGO focal points;
- International focal points.
