

A photograph showing the aftermath of a disaster. A large, dark, corrugated metal sheet, likely a roof, has collapsed and is lying on the ground. The ground is covered in dirt and debris, including some wooden planks and other fragments. The scene is desolate and shows significant structural damage.

CAPITULO IV

Respuesta a los Desastres